

A RIDE ON THE BUS

Last week, I planned to go with my friend to the movies. But we had a problem.

We had planned to drive to the show. But when we got to my friend's car, it would not start.

So we decided to ask another friend to give us a ride in her car. We sent her a text. But she did not respond to our text, so we decided to call her on the phone. But she did not answer her phone either. We did not hear back from her.

So we decided to get a ride with Uber.

But it was the time of day when Uber raises its prices. They call it "surge pricing." It was too expensive, and we gave up the idea.

Then we decided we would check on taking the bus. We looked at the bus schedule on our phones and discovered that there was a bus stop on the corner.

We could take the bus to another stop on the street corner by the theater.

We sat on the bench and waited for the bus. It came in about 10 minutes, so we did not have to wait very long. We got on the bus. Unfortunately, the bus had to stop at the railroad tracks because a train was on the tracks. We had to wait at the tracks for a long time. While we waited, I read the advertisements on the bus. It seemed to me that I looked at the ads for a long time. Finally, the bus started moving again, and we were on our way to the movies. At last, we arrived at the theater. We looked up at the marquee and noticed the movie we wanted to see was starting in five minutes. We were just in time to get our tickets! We had a good time at the show. And I decided I liked riding on the bus more than riding in a car!
